October 2013

Fall Workshop

October already? Yes, folks, the days are getting shorter, colder, and rainier, but no need to fret! Stave off those chilly weather blues with the Fall In-House Workshop. This year, the workshop is scheduled for Saturday, November 10, from 9am to 12pm. Regina Memole will fill us in on theme ideas and other details at this week's meeting.

If you aren't convinced yet, remember that there will be music for sale and tasty treats for free!

ARS Membership

Can't get enough of the recorder? Join the National ARS and reap the many benefits including The American Recorder Magazine and access to personal development opportunities, informational booklets, low-cost instrument insurance, discounts to festivals and some workshops, monthly e-news, and much more.

Composer of the Month Francisco Guerrero

Born in Seville on October 4, 1528, Guerrero composed secular songs and instrumentals in addition to masses and motets. His mastery of capturing emotions from despair to joy brought a popularity to his music that remains today.

2013-2014 Season

If you have not yet registered for the season, please consider coming back to join us! There are lots of great class selections and some new instructors. The more the merrier!
